Dear Sir / Madame

Manufacturing

I am writing to apply for the above position as advertised on the placement database at the University of Surrey.

I am very interested in your line of business as I feel it will be very challenging for me and it will give me the opportunity in working as part of a team, due to the fact I completed my military service as an officer, I realize the importance of people interacting with each other on various assignments.

My CV shows my previous experience as a Technician in a computer company where I gained practical knowledge and experience where my work was highly praised by my employers (references can be forwarded).

I would be pleased to be given the opportunity in having a meeting with you for a further interview.

Yours sincerely,

Giorgos Ioannidis.
